Tense: Dealing with Uncomfortable Tensions in Scripture

Many Christians know and wrestle with the major tensions of the Christian Scriptures: Jesus as fully God and fully Man, we are simultaneously saints and sinners, and so on. I will attempt to outline a few less obvious ones and demonstrate why they are so important in the lives of Christians--particularly Christian men.

Dr. Joel Oesch currently serves Concordia University Irvine in the capacities of Professor of Theology and Director of Graduate Studies for Christ College. A graduate of Yale University and Concordia Seminary St. Louis, Joel's primary research interests include: Postmodernism, Technology and Transhumanism, and the writings of Dietrich Bonhoeffer. He lives with his wife of 15 years, Tiffany, and four young children in Laguna Hills, California.
